

Hi, my name is Brian Veitch!

Here's some stuff about me

I've been a math teacher for the last 15 years. In those years I've dabbled in web design and programming. If I wanted to do something (like build an app or my personal website) I'd watch a bunch of YouTube and learn enough to get my project done. But this caused many gaps in my knowledge. I enrolled in the McHenry County College mobile design and development program to fill in those gaps and get a solid foundation of web and app design.

Here's a picture of my dog and a chessboard I built.
